FROM THE CHAIRPERSON

I have long cherished a dream for a friendly workplace which is educational in nature and values creative gifts. I have long sought-for companions who are well read in the best of books, are honest down to their bone and take works for a prayer. I, too, have long looked for an atmosphere where genuine scholarship finds a respected place; where good character is a glamour and good heart an asset.

And, I feel immensely satisfied here at Koshi among smart teaching professionals, sincere & hardworking officers, disciplined, shining young learners and creative thinkers. Students here read best of books, learn moral values, go out to serve the society and return more enriched.

I like these all and love them all. Students make me feel great with great books open in their hands, discussing them in high spirits and exhibiting a lot of hope. Society makes me feel great being a partner and a friend. And everything Koshi has today is reflecting my dreams.

- Manu Manjil

Chairman Manu Manjil addressing the 31st SAARC conference of writers, New Delhi, 2010.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL’S DESK

I trust people with books in their hands. Book-reading is a popular culture among teachers and students at Koshi College now. It took years for our teachers to break away from teaching in traditional lines. And it took years for our students to be able to comprehend the differences Koshi has created.

Our total focus is on students’ discipline, decency and devotion to learning. We conduct multiple educational activities around these areas. We hunt ways to inspire our students for their educational outcomes, imagination, invention, creativity and hope. We want the societies to look beautiful when our graduates walk through them.

Being at Koshi is very satisfying. I feel proud when people in the society say that students at Koshi read & interact a lot & are capable of serious thinking & serious feeling. Society is our source, energy & guide.

I thank all who have been elemental to the good cause of Koshi over the years. And I welcome students & parents who trust Koshi & want to be part of it.

Student Voice

Santosh Rajdhani
B. Ed. – II

That I'm a student at Koshi College gives me a great feeling. The reading culture on the college premises is so inspiring. I have learnt about how to travel into the great minds of authors, how to think differently & creatively. I think I'm a dreamer now - on the way to enlightenment.

Rojita Pradhan
BBS. – III

Being a student at Koshi College is so satisfying. The pleasant learner-friendly environment, learning-enriched set-up, good, admirable teachers and friends together have made Koshi a true alma mater.

Koshi College gives you much more than what a college generally does. I’m extremely happy here.

Bibek Sharria
Grade -11, Management

Koshi places its focus on discipline & moral character. This makes the college a unique place to be in. The competence and trait of the teachers here are very tempting. They are true mentors and good friends. Character is a glamour at Koshi. I so love being a part of the system.

Ramesh Basnet
BBS. – II

Teachers at Koshi read so much and guide us so well. The emphasis put on students moral growth is striking. Seen from the college my future looks brilliant. I am filled with spirit & hope.

Bimala Shresha
BBS. – III

Koshi has certain distinctions. I like the college for the differences it has been able to create. Students here read famous books on management, art, culture & literature. Renowned visitors pay visits & enlighten us at times. I feel stronger now than I was before. We have had closely guarded personality growth. This, I feel, has enabled us to stand out of the crowd.

Sujata Parajuli
Grade -12, Management

Discipline is an asset of this college system. My days here have been an eye-opener. I feel I’ve grown career-conscious now. I mostly appreciate the Koshi readership, activities & student outreach programmes. Everything done here is done differently. What means quality is evident here. I feel proud of being a student of this college.
